Online Services

eStatements

eStatements* are electronic statements that can be viewed from the convenience of your own personal computer. All of your checking, savings, personal loan, VISA® and home equity loan statements will be available to you electronically with Online Banking.

You will receive an email from RFCU when your eStatement is ready. You should expect to receive that message within 3 business days of your statement cycle date. In the email, there will be a link which brings you directly to the Online Banking Sign On screen.

Once you enroll for the service, your account(s) statement(s) will be available on the system for 14 months. You may print or save your statement at any time during that 14-month period to retain your statement longer. We recommend that all of our members save their statements to disk or hardcopy for future reference.

It is very important that we have your correct email address. You can make this change right on our web site by filling out the secure form Email Address Change (under Online Services). The next statement notification we send will go to your new email address, as long as you notify us at least 3 days before your next statement cycle.

You can switch back to receiving a paper statement via U.S. Mail at any time. To cancel eStatements, from the eStatement site, click on Profile. Click on the "Delete e-Statement Login" button.

*eStatements are not available on Image or Business Checking accounts. Image Checking users may switch to Dividend or Free Checking to receive eStatements.

Online Banking Security Features

Online banking is a secure way to manage your accounts at RFCU. We've never had a security breach since we introduced it in May 2000. Even so, we update security features as the technology allows. Here are some reasons why Online Banking is so secure:

Key Encryption

Transmissions between your PC and the Online Banking servers are encrypted so only those two computers can decipher them. You can tell when a site is secure (encrypted) by a symbol on your browser—most often a picture of a closed padlock in the lower right corner of your screen.

Unique Session ID

Online Banking assigns a session ID number each time you log in. "Cookies" must be enabled on your browser so it will accept this ID number and your session can begin. This number is verified each time you send or receive information from the Online Banking host processor during that session. The cookie is not stored on your computer, and it is dismissed when you exit your browser, exit Online Banking, or are automatically logged out due to inactivity.

Three Tries and You're Out

The third incorrect PIN (Personal Identification Number) entry in a row immediately blocks electronic account access to all your accounts. To reset your password, choose "Forgot your password?" link (located under the login boxes on the home page), or contact us to unlock it.

Changeable PIN

If you want extra security, you can change your Online Banking PIN. Your password must contain between 6 and 10 characters, at least 3 letters, at least 3 numbers, and your password cannot contain leading or trailing blanks. (Please keep in mind that passwords are case sensitive.)

What Software Do I Need?

To Use Online Banking you need either Firefox 2.0 (or higher) or Microsoft Internet Explorer 6.x (or higher). These browsers use data encryption for security. Online Banking requires 128-bit strong encryption—the strongest protection available today. Both Firefox and Explorer offer these levels. You can download either browser through our web site. America Online's latest browser is an acceptable version of Explorer and will work with Online Banking if you enable 128-bit encryption through AOL.

Security and Privacy

At RFCU, you security and privacy are of utmost importance to us. We are committed to making sure your personal information is kept private. Your name will not be sold to any third parties and you will not be contacted without your permission.

How to Apply for Online Banking-

It's easy to get started. To sign up for Online Banking, the primary account holder should follow these easy steps:

1. Go to our website www.rfcu.com
2. Go to the Online Banking login box. Under Enrollment/Demos select Enroll-Personal or Enroll-Business
3. Fill out the application
4. Read the disclosure and check off that you have done so
5. Click on "Submit Online Banking Application"

You will receive an immediate e-mail confirmation that we have received your application and are verifying your information. Within 5 business days, you will receive a welcome letter which includes log in instructions and your password.

Interbank Transfer

Interbank Transfer service makes it easier for members to manage their finances. Online Banking users are now able to:

- Move money between RFCU accounts and accounts at other financial institutions and vice versa (provided those accounts have the same registration).
- Make standard transfers of money into an RFCU account for FREE.

This does not replace Bill Pay. Members can still use RFCU's FREE online Bill Pay service to send checks to vendors or people-anyone can be set up as a payee and they will receive a check.

How to sign up:

1. Log in to Online Banking
2. View the Interbank Transfer tour
3. Agree to the terms and conditions
4. You'll then be asked for personal information to confirm your identity.

How to add an account:

You will need a check or deposit slip from your other financial institution(s) in order to add an account.

1. Log in to Online Banking, select "Transfers" then select "Interbank Transfer."
2. Select "Add Account"
3. Enter the financial institution's name
4. Enter the financial institution's ABA Routing number.
5. Click on the name of the financial institution.
6. Enter the account type, account number, select the routing number and click on "Continue"
7. You will view a screen that explains the trial deposit process, click "Submit" at the bottom of the page.

A confirmation screen will appear indicating the date your trial deposit request was submitted. The confirmation process typically takes three days. You can start transferring funds to each institution as soon as you get a confirmation. This process should be completed for each external financial institution you would like to have an Interbank Transfer service relationship with.

Institution to Institution Transfers

Transfer funds between RFCU savings or checking accounts and accounts at other banks, credit unions and brokerage firms. Transfers can be set up as a one time transfer or can be scheduled for a future date. Recurring transfers can also be set up. It's safer, faster and easier than mailing deposits. Certain monetary limits do apply.*

How to make an Institution to Institution Transfer:

1. Before you can make a transfer you must add the institution's information and verify that they accept online transfers in the Add Account tab.
2. If you have an internet relationship with this other account, verification can be done in minutes, and you may start the transfer funds process. (Please note: not all institutions have online capabilities.)
3. For all other institutions a deposit verification request for that institution will be done. Two small deposits will be sent to the institution you are adding.
4. Three to four business days from the initiation of verification, check your account at the non-RFCU institution to see if the deposits have been made.
5. With these two successful deposits, you can now verify this institution under Add Accounts, enter the amounts of the deposits, and select Confirm.
6. Deposits and Withdrawals can now be made using this account under Interbank Transfer. Most transfers will occur between 3 to 4 business days.

You can view the status of your payment at any time in the Overview page of Interbank Transfer when you are logged into Online Banking.
