(You must be a member for at least 30 days to be eligible for this service.) It allows the credit union to pay withdrawals to your checking account that would cause it to be overdrawn. If you do not have enough money in your account for a check, pre-authorized withdrawal, ATM or debit card transaction, RFCU will usually decline the transaction. In these cases, you may be unable to complete the transaction unless you have another form of payment. If you want RFCU to authorize and pay these overdrafts, you can request Overdraft Service. Members may also link a savings account or line of credit to the account to cover overdrafts.
For members with debit cards	Option A (default) No Overdraft Service	This means your account is set up to decline any check, ATM or one-time debit card transaction that may overdraw your account. Since these transactions will be declined when you have insufficient funds, you will not be charged the overdraft fee for ATM or one-time debit card transactions.
	Option B You enroll in Overdraft Service	This means you choose to allow RFCU to authorize checks, one-time debit card purchases and ATM transactions when you do not have enough money available in your account. Whether an overdraft will be paid is at our discretion, and we reserve the right not to pay. You will be charged $28.00 each time we pay an overdraft.
