Protect Your Personal Information!

Choose a Password That's Hard to Guess!

Don't use names of family members, birthdays or the name of a pet. In fact, you should avoid any word that is in the dictionary (hackers have been known to use dictionary files to break into systems).

The best passwords don't have to be hard to remember, just hard to guess. Substitute the number zero in place of the letter "o" or use the "$" in place of the letter "s."

With a little imagination you can protect your information!
